ALEXANDER'S ESCAPE.

THE RUSSIAN CZAR DECLINES CERTAIN NIHLISTIC ATTENTIONS.

And Even Goes So Far as to Change His Road to Church—One Bomb Thrown That Failed to Operate—The Warning Given at the Last Moment—Police Making Wholesale Arrests.

St. Petersburg, March 16.—It is not officially announced, but on Sunday the police were informed that an attempt might be made upon the life of the czar on the anniversary of the death of his father, Alexander the Great. The police were accordingly on the alert. The suspicious actions of several persons standing near the Antichrist palace attracted the attention of the police, who arrested the suspected persons before they could conceal the fact that they held in their hands bombs, grenades and bombs, which they were prepared to throw at the czar when he should pass on his way to the cathedral. There is still much excitement in the city, and the police and military are correspondingly alert. Arrests of suspected persons are of almost hourly occurrence.

London, March 16.—The Standard publishes a dispatch from St. Petersburg which states that one of the persons arrested in connection with the plot to assassinate the czar carried in his hand a book from the middle of which, between the covers, the leaves had been cut so as to form a hollow space. This cavity contained a bottle filled with dynamite and a number of small bullets. The other men arrested carried parcels and bags containing hand grenades and bombs. It was also stated that a woman having a bomb concealed in her bust was arrested near the palace.

The Daily News, St. Petersburg correspondent telegraphs that a bomb was thrown under the carriage of the czar as he was returning from the requiem mass at the cathedral, but fortunately failed to explode. Two of the men arrested in connection with the conspiracy resided in the suburbs of the city and the police upon visiting their apartments found there a large quantity of explosives material and revolutionary pamphlets. Thus far more than 200 arrests have been made.

The German police gave warning to their Russian brethren some time ago of the existence of the plot, but the Russians were unable to do so. The police are now working with the utmost diligence to prevent the execution of the plot. The police are now working with the utmost diligence to prevent the execution of the plot. It was also stated that a woman having a bomb concealed in her bust was arrested near the palace.

A special council was held on Sunday night which was presided over by the Grand Duke Vladimir. The man who threw the bomb under the carriage while the czar was returning from the cathedral, was arrested before the council, but he refused to talk and was taken back to the fortress, where he was with his companions in crime are now confined.

A Wrecking Crew Wrecked. PALMER, Mich., March 16.—Early Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, a switch, fourteen miles out of this place, an engine with Wreckmaster Nelson, of the International & Great Northern road, and a crew of four men, were wrecked. The engine was hurled against a high embankment and smashed to pieces, scattering or wounding more or less severely every man of the crew. John Finley (engineer) had his spine broken and will die. Wreckmaster Nelson was badly scalded and cut on the arm and hand. Section foreman J. McElroy had his left arm broken in two places and was badly scalded. Young McElroy was badly scalded on the legs. A Gowen was badly scalded on the leg. A Gowen was badly scalded on the leg. A Gowen was badly scalded on the leg.

Atlanta, Ga., March 16.—Monday night some unknown person called at the gate of the residence of Col. James Collins, in Dodge county. The colonel was dressing to answer the knock when he was shot through the window and instantly killed. A woman with whom Collins was living has been arrested, charged with the murder. Col. Collins was a rich and popular cotton planter. One of his brothers is a member of the Big game parliament, and another brother is a judge in California.

Manning Searching for Health. New York, March 16.—Ex-Secretary of the Navy, Manning, called for Europe on the steamer Arkland Tuesday morning. He was accompanied by his wife and daughter. Mr. Manning said the voyage was taken in the hope that the tonic of the sea air would benefit his health. He was feeling strong and all his ailments were disappearing. He had almost entirely left his bed. His only complaint had not troubled him for six months.

The Coronet in the Road. New York, March 16.—Pilot Vatos, of pilot boat No. 1, which came in here Tuesday morning, reports that the schooner Coronet and tugboat passing Fire Island on the evening of Saturday last, and that the Coronet was then a mile and a half ahead. He had no doubt whatever as to their relative positions.

A Beecher Post G. A. L. New York, March 16.—A movement is on foot among the Brooklyn members of the Grand Army of the Republic to recognize the patriotic services of the late Rev. Henry Ward Beecher in the cause of the Union and of liberty by organizing a Grand Army post which shall bear his name.

The President's Narrow Escape. WASHINGTON, March 16.—One of the features of the House of Representatives Monday was the presentation to the president of a book on the election of the president directly by a popular vote. The author, who has come to Washington to reside temporarily, kept in the background until the crowd had departed. Then, in hand, he walked up to the president, made a brief speech explaining its contents, and begged the president to accept it. Mr. Cleveland apparently thought at first that he was at the mercy of a book agent, and looked relieved when he found out his mistake. He promised the author that he would look over the work.

Obviation Caused by Hasty Legislation. WASHINGTON, March 16.—The first controller of the treasury is beset with questions growing out of obscure clauses in appropriation bills that were hastily passed in the last days of congress. Whether an appropriation is made for the state agricultural colleges, and whether or not $200,000 for station tenders on interior rivers is immediately available, and a number of other questions of similar character are now before him awaiting his decision. The probability is that in the case of the agricultural college appropriation he will decide that there is none.

Death of an Old Public Functionary. WASHINGTON, March 16.—Capt. Francis P. Burkhardt, of his home here, Capt. Burkhardt to Washington first in the capacity of hostler at the White House, under President Buchanan. During Mr. Lincoln's administration he acted as his coachman, and drove the presidential carriage until the day of Mr. Lincoln's death. He was appointed a watchman in the state department in July, 1875, and in April, 1880, through the favor of Secretary Lincoln, who remembered his services to his father, he was made captain of the watch of the building.

New Court in Illinois. WASHINGTON, March 16.—The department of justice has sent copies of the law regarding the holding of federal courts in Illinois to District Attorney Ewing. The department of justice has nothing to do with putting the law into operation, and the holding of courts at Peoria will be determined by Judge Binger and the officers of his court can arrange matters. According to the law the first term of court in Peoria would be held April 15 next, but there is no money until July 1, because of the failure of congress to provide it.

Pardoned by the President. WASHINGTON, March 16.—The president has pardoned J. C. Dougherty, sentenced for embezzlement from the Baltimore postoffice, on the ground that the prisoner is destitute of means, and has served more than half of his term, and that his pardon is recommended by all who were connected with his prosecution.

To Utilize Illinois Convicts. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 16.—The house advanced a number of bills to second reading Tuesday. A bill was introduced providing for the creation of a board of three commissioners to control the labor of convicts. It fixes eight hours for a day's labor, and the convicts are to make boots, shoes, and such articles as can be used by the several institutions. No machinery is to be used where the work can be done by hand, and the convicts are to be allowed 10 cents per day, to be paid to them at the expiration of their terms. An appropriation of $10,000 is asked. The bill providing that no convicted criminal shall be capable of contracting marriage while in prison was ordered engrossed, and the bill prohibiting base ball games on Sunday or on a public holiday was ordered to third reading. The senate refused to take up the prohibitory amendment resolution. A resolution was adopted for final adjournment May 15. Bills were introduced providing for furnishing school books free to pupils of the public schools under certain circumstances; no exempt building associations from taxation.

Arrest of a Big Thief. MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 16.—Lance H. Vincent, defaulting state treasurer of Alabama, has been captured by E. C. Ray, a deputy sheriff of Parker county, Texas. The prisoner arrived here Tuesday in charge of Ray and was taken to jail. The arrest was made at Big Sandy, Wood county, Tex., on last Sunday morning at 1 o'clock. Vincent stepped off a train unconcernedly, entirely unsuspecting apprehension, and was immediately arrested. Vincent's crime is the largest of $25,000 of the state funds in 1883. His crime seems to have preyed on his conscience and he is broken and haggard. There is a good deal of sympathy for him because of his family.

Fire in a Liquor Store. NEW ORLEANS, La., March 16.—A fire broke out Tuesday night in the wholesale liquor and tobacco store of Latham & From on Duane street. There was a large amount of liquor stored in the building, which made the fire a very troublesome one. The flames spread to the neighboring stores of Tuncoloro & Co. and Delphi. The former as well as the store of Latham & From being totally destroyed, while Delphi's place was damaged. The upper portion of the From building was occupied by Max Frankel as a clothing factory, which was also totally destroyed. Loss, $75,000, fully insured.

Running in Spite of the Strike. CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 16.—With the aid of a large body of police and Pinkerton men, the New York Pennsylvania & Ohio railway succeeded in getting out the first freight train for a week Tuesday. There was a large crowd of strikers lining the track, but the train was unimpeded. At 8:30 o'clock a second train left the yard. It is the present intention of the railroad management to run only two freight trains per day until the business of the road will warrant an increase in the number.

All Sailed Between Italy and Germany. BERLIN, March 16.—The increased cordiality of the relations between Germany and Italy were exemplified Monday by the fact that Prince Bismarck visited and personally handed to the Italian ambassador the treaty of alliance between the two countries containing the signatures necessary to its ratification. The chancellor's visit extended over a period of two hours.

An Old Man Passed Away. ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 16.—Horace Peck, aged 85 years, was buried at Clarendon, Orleans county, Monday. He was secretary of the Massie Lodge at Batavia, N. Y., when the famous William Morgan was seized and disappeared. Peck was always staunch defender of the attitude taken by the order during those stirring times.

Caught Under a Wheat Tumble. CHICAGO, March 16.—C. T. Howe & Co., a board of trade commission firm, were caught in the down turn in wheat Tuesday, and ordered their trades closed. The size of the failure is thought to be very large.

The Proper Attitude. A local boss had instructed his henchmen to occupy an attitude of dignified neutrality in regard to a political measure. When approached by a friend of the measure, the henchman looked indignant and said: "I don't know what I can do for the boss, but I will preserve a dignified brutality."—Boston Beacon.

Casualties in the Mail Service. There were 211 casualties in the railway mail service last year, more than double the number of the preceding year, but for the first time in many years no clerk was killed. The seriously injured numbered thirty-six, and the slightly injured were sixty.—Chicago Herald.
